

Remembering When We Were Colored in Tyler, Texas

Volume 1

Volume 2

Compiled by Rodney Lamar Atkins

If a race has no history, if it has no worthwhile traditions, it becomes a negligible factor in the thought of the world, and it stands in danger of being exterminated.

Carter G. Woodson

In these compelling books, historian and author, Rodney L. Atkins documents the rich heritage of African Americans in Tyler, Texas. These in-depth volumes chronicle the African-American community that flourished in Tyler before desegregation and provide an invaluable look at people of color who helped shape Tyler, Texas. The narrative is complemented by hundreds of photographs, newspaper articles, and interviews, many of which have never before been seen in print.

-Carter G. Woodson

For over 100 years the history of the Black community in Tyler has not been recorded in book form. I have used all of my skills as a librarian of 28 years to record our history. This book covers every subject of black life in Tyler. You will be able to trace the history of businesses, organizations, churches, schools, colleges, and individuals. You will view the most "rare" photos ever seen.

For the first printing, I need your support. This two volume book will be available on February 1, 2007. Will you pre-order a copy? Checks are accepted payable to:

Victory Temple
P.O. Box 385
Tyler, TX 75710

Every church, school, organization, and family needs this 2 volume book. Please fill out the book purchase agreement and return it within the next 10 days. A pre-addressed envelope is enclosed.

Yours truly,

Rodney Lamar Atkins
